It's all about the Core...

The HDF (High Density Fibre) core board is the heart of laminate flooring. Most HDF cores use mixed wood fibres and resin, including reduced-quality material from all parts of the tree.

Our GenCore Optimal Pure Pine HDF is different, only using selected pine wood, removing impurities and lower-grade fibres, creating a cleaner, higher-density core. Resulting in a stronger, more stable board with improved durability and moisture resistance.

GenCore – a smarter core for better flooring performance
